Eligible employees may be nominated if they:

- Consistently meet or exceed performance targets.
- Demonstrate reliability in attendance and deliverables.
- Contribute to significant customer wins, business outcomes, or innovation.

5.3 Nomination Process

- Nominations must be submitted via the Arche Reward Tool with clear justification.
- Team nominations may include a minimum of 2 and a maximum of 8 members.
- The tool manages the entire workflow, from employee nomination and approval, to processing rewards based on category and approvals, and further enables employees to seamlessly redeem their rewards as points.

5.4 Roles in the Nomination Process

- Nominee (N): Employee being nominated.
- Nominator (N+1): Immediate manager submitting the nomination.
- Approver 1 (N+2): Next-level manager validating nomination.
- Approver 2: R&R SPOC in consultation with Department Head for finalization.

5.5 Approval Workflow

- Submission-Manager(N+1):
  The immediate reporting manager (N+1) initiates the process by submitting a nomination through the tool. The submission must include a clear justification, highlighting the employee's contribution, achievement, or behavior that merits recognition in line with the defined R&R categories.
- First-Level Review – Next Level Manager (N+2):
  The next-level manager (N+2) reviews the nomination to validate whether it aligns with the employee's performance outcomes, organizational values, and eligibility criteria. This step ensures that nominations are not only justified but also consistent with the intent of the program.
- R&R SPOC Review: Approver 2
  The R&R SPOC conducts a thorough review of all validated nominations. The SPOC checks for fairness, duplication, consistency across departments, and adherence to the established R&R policy framework.

- Department Head Consultation: Approver 2
  The Department Head collaborates with the R&R SPOC to review the consolidated list of nominations. At this stage, inputs from business leaders help refine the final list to ensure balanced representation across teams and functions, thereby preventing bias or overrepresentation.
- Final Approval – R&R SPOC:
  After incorporating feedback from BU leaders, the R&R SPOC finalizes the list of awardees. The SPOC is responsible for approving and processing the rewards within the tool, ensuring that the category of award, points allocation, and communication plan are accurately executed.
- Audit & Records:
  All nominations, reviews, and approvals are systematically logged within the tool. This creates a transparent and auditable trail of decisions, ensuring accountability, compliance with organizational policies, and availability of records for future reference or reporting.

- Publication: Approved awardees published on the Arche Reward Tool dashboard.
- Notification: Automated emails sent to awardees, nominators, and Department Heads.
